SAY IT ISN'T SO — It is rumored that the site selection committee for Peralta Junior College has cast an eye in the direction of Golden Gate Fields as a possible site for a college campus in the Berkeley-Albany area. The idea is so preposterous as to be dizzying, but forewarned and forearmed and we may have to gather our forces and fight another land battle. According to Administrative Officers Jim Turner, the track (during ONE year) pours about $100,000 into Albany coffers plus over two million dollars to the state and almost $100,000 to the federal government. Doesn't seem possible that anyone would even dream of removing it for a campus.

ONE OF THE biggest birthday parties we've attended was the Saturday night surprise for Mrs. Eldon Wolf and Barry Rummion, Jr. who both became an interesting age Saturday, and for Larry Baum, who reached an unbelieved age Sunday. What with all their assorted relatives and friends from the East Bay (the Rummions alone fill a hall), it was quite an affair, complete with special entertainment, food, dancing, etc. And it was a successful surprise for all honored guests, whose families used a variety of places to get them to the little-known hall in acceptable attire. Barry came out with a terrible cold because he thought he was (Continued on Page 3)

We'll Do Next Celebration Ourselves-Howell

Without making reference to any individual or group, Councilman Lewis Howell Monday night expressed disappointment in the handling of the ribbon-cutting for the Buchanan overpass last Friday morning.

"In the future, I hope we have plans made so the people and various officials can participate," he said. "In the future, I hope we set up a committee of our own."

Howell described the opening of the overpass, attended by a handful of individuals and a few photographers, as "the biggest thing that has happened in Albany in my time and certainly the one which cost the most money. It should have been a real event so the people could have participated. To me, it has given a new look to the city, given our merchants confidence . . . it should have been something for everyone to remember."

Councilman Joel Parker asked when the official opening would be.

"We've already had it, Mr. Parker," Councilman Clark said. "Didn't you know about it?" Mayor George Hein asked.

"No," Parker answered.

As Hein moaned, "Oh, no," Councilman Joe Egenberger said he had heard of it late Thursday and couldn't make arrangements to attend.

"You might say the Northern Gateway to Alameda County is half open," Clark said.

"You might say the mayor missed the ribbon three times," Saler added.

"Nobody told me about it," Councilman Joe Egenberger said.

Thus ended official discussion of the opening of the Buchanan overpass, Albany's first big news event of the year!

Maday Meats #2 Opens at Key Foods Here

John Medeiros took over the meat department at Key Foods on San Pablo Avenue, effective last Sunday.

The department will be known at Maday Meats No. 2 and hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. seven days each week.

Medeiros, who has spent 20 years in the meat business, offers Swift Premium Protein steer beef and other high quality meats, including lunch meats.

The first Maday is in Richmond, which combines groceries and meats.

School Cafeterias Doing Big Business

Cafeteria Supervisor Mrs. Wayne Niemela reported to members of the Board of Education last Tuesday night that there is a cash balance in the cafeteria account of $8,400.

Board members asked if she meant $8.40, but Superintendent Kenneth Forry assured them the larger figure is correct.

Because the cafeterias were limping along with slack business just a short time ago, the board wondered why they are so successful now.

It was explained that the three cafeterias at Marin, Cornell and Albany High schools are serving better food with more meat and there is a "cook's surprise" each week.

In gratitude the board increased Mrs. Niemela's salary $25 a month and authorized purchase of two freezers for storing surplus meat which the district obtains at nominal cost.

Buchanan Overpass Opens

City, county and construction officials gathered on top of the new Southern Pacific overpass on Buchanan Friday morning to cut the ribbon officially opening the major city improvement.

The ceremonies marked the successful conclusion of a 12-year struggle by city officials to construct the overpass and extension of Marin, finally completed at an approximate cost of $1,100,000 with the cooperation of the State of California, Southern Pacific Railroad company, Alameda County and the City of Albany.

Councilman Howell recalls that about 12 years ago, Supervisors Cliff Wixon and Chet Stanley plus Chairman Harry Bartlett were the three who voted yes on the first allocation of gas tax funds for the extension of Marin. In those days the city with the best proposed uses for the funds was the one which received them.

About three years later, at the request of the newly-organized Mayors' conference, the county originated the Mayor's Formula and Albany's share of gas tax funds came in regularly. It was put in the bank and saved for the city's big dream.

In 1957, Albany made application to the Public Utilities Commission and opened negotiations with the University of California. The project was on PUC's list from 1957 to 1962, when eligibility was extended. Following groundbreaking ceremonies, work was begun in February, 1961.

The overpass itself is 450 feet long. The total project, including Marin extension, is about 3,200 feet. At its highest point, the overpass is 41 feet above sea level. It is a four-lane divided asphaltic concrete roadway complete with modern street lighting and left turn lanes.

Pedestrians bound for Golden Gate Fields may leave the bus or their car at Cleveland and Buchanan and use a stairway to the overpass, where a walkway, divided from vehicular traffic, has been provided through to the race track. Above the railroad tracks, railing and fencing will minimize the possibility of pedestrians throwing anything to the tracks below, Administrative Officer James B. Turner said.

Now city officials will turn their attention to city buildings, opening bids during the Council meeting next Monday night.

COUNCIL Opening of Bids for Civic Center Next Monday Night

Albany City Council Monday night set a work session at 7 p.m. next Monday night to discuss information from bond counsel in preparation for the historic bid-opening for new city buildings, which will be on the agenda for the meeting.

This brings the city one step closer to construction of the civic center on the triangular piece of land bounded by Buchanan, San Pablo and the new Marin extension. The $675,000 bond issue was approved last April by Albany voters.

In other matters, Council unanimously approved Police Chief Ralph M. Jensen's recommendations appointing Raoul Lee Harris probationary sergeant replacing Sergeant Carl Lindh, assigned probationary juvenile officer, and appointment of Ronald E. Gagon as probationary patrolman with all appointments effective Feb. 1.

Denied and referred to the insurance carrier and city attorney a claim for damages in the amount of $1,500 by Bessie L. James, 978 Kains, who allegedly sprained her right ankle and knee in a fall at Washington and San Pablo Oct. 16, 1964.

Referred to the Chief of Police an application for an alcoholic beverage license by Sonoma Wine Cellar at 614 South San Pablo.

Approved support of the City of Livermore in its efforts to secure Camp Parks as the site for a high-energy proton accelerator, a $3 million project which would eventually mean employment for 2,000 people.

Passed ordinances to repeal the ordinance asking the county to collect local taxes (ruled illegal without a charter amendment) and amending the City Code to eliminate a 100-foot limitation on signs; resolutions appointing the mayor to represent Albany in formation of the Economic Opportunity Agency (for (Continued on Page 3))

NEW JUVENILE OFFICER—Sgt. Carl Lindh has been named juvenile officer of the Albany Police Department in a reorganization made possible with the hiring of Ronald Gagon, 22, as probationary patrolman. Officer Raoul Harris has been promoted to sergeant. All appointments become effective Feb. 1, Police Chief Ralph Jensen has announced.

Girl Scouts Thanked

A reunion and supper party was held for Senior and Cadette Girl Scout day camp aides at the Richmond Rod and Gun Club.

The party was a "thank you" for the Senior Girl Scout aides who helped make day camp at Tilden Park last summer so successful for the hundreds of Brownie and Junior Girl Scout day campers.

Members of the day camp committee for the Northeast Bay Area Girl Scouts, who were hostesses, include Mrs. Lloyd Hogan and Mrs. Eldon Wolf of Albany. Guests were local Albany girls: Joellen Arnold, Margery Hardie, Tony Tyams, Judy Jacobson, Pat Nelson, Theresa Sandretto, Jeanette Sas, and Sue Thomas.

Auto Driving Class Offered

The auto driving class of the Albany Adult School, 603 Key Route Blvd., will accept new registrations, both of adults and students 15½ years of age attending private or parochial schools where driving is not taught, up through Thursday, Jan. 21. Those living in or out of Albany are accepted.

The course consists of a minimum of 30 hours classroom work, scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings 7 to 10, followed by an afternoon and evening schedule of behind-the-wheel instruction.

EL CERRITO F&M

A degree team of the National Sojourners (Masons in the Armed Forces) will visit El Cerrito lodge 705 F&M Monday night, Jan. 25, at 7:30 p.m. The team will confer the second degree on a member of the lodge. All sojourning Masons are invited to the meeting at Veterans Memorial building, Stockton and Kearney, El Cerrito. Refreshments will be served.

Children's Hospital Sets Vintage Festival Jan. 30

Nine whites, four rose and eight reds will be dispensed from more than a score of tables at the 10th annual Vintage Festival Saturday night, Jan. 30, at Golden Gate Fields.

The colors refer, of course, to wines, and the Turf Club will be filled to overflowing with an expected 2,000 guests of Children's Hospital of the East Bay sampling the products of seven Napa Valley wineries.

Wines may be expected to be lighter, say the vintners, because foods are lighter, but the procedure in the Turf Club will be according to pattern, with guests starting with the most delicate wines and progressing to the heartiest judging each for clarity, color, taste and aroma. Tasting will be from 5:30 to 8 p.m., and trays of bread and cheese will be served throughout the Turf Club.

Vintners participating in the festival will be Otto Gramlow of Beaulieu Vineyards, Louis Martini of Martini Winery, Hanns J. Korbell of Hans Korbell Cellars, John Daniel of Inglenook, Joseph Maganini of Charles Krug, Roy Raymond of Beringer Bros. and Brother Timothy of The Christian Brothers.

Frank Lacy Posthumously Honored in Philadelphia

The late Frank Lacy of Albany Bowl was posthumously honored with the All Star Award of Merit by Bowling Proprietors' Association of America last night in Philadelphia.

His son, Bill, received the fifth annual award in special ceremonies during the 24th All Star tournament in Convention Hall.

One of the Bay Area's top bowling enthusiasts and former national president of BPAA, Lacy's likeness is etched on the silver and ebony plaque.

Lacy's first association with bowling was as a 15-year-old pinsetter. Later he was a salesman and vice president of a beverage company. In 1948, he opened Albany Bowl at 540 San Pablo Ave.

Other offices he held in the BPAA were: president of the Northern California PBA of the East Bay; chairman of the tournament committee of the NorCal PBA for four years; Northern California board member for five years; BPAA national board member for five years; member of the BPAA Executive Committee for four years; chairman of the BPAA By Laws Committee for three years; BPAA membership committee member four years; BPAA Western Region vice president four years.

Lacy was instrumental in developing the BPAA All Star tournament into a "road show" in 1957. Previously it was held in Chicago every year.

He also fostered the idea of BPAA encouraging youth bowling on a national scale. This latter idea was picked up and developed into the present BPAA sponsored Youth Bowling Association.

In announcing the award, BPAA tournament chairman Carl Hinkel of Indianapolis said: "Frank Lacy was selected for the Award of Merit by a unanimous decision of our tournament committee in recognition of his many contributions to BPAA and the All Star, foremost of which was his drive to 'get the show on the road.'"

These diplomas were awarded Dames whose husbands will graduate in January from the University of California at Berkeley, with degrees ranging from a B.S. in civil engineering to a Ph.D. in chemistry.

The diplomas mean a great deal to each recipient for she knows only too well what it has been like to have her husband going to school. In the words of the degree, "each girl through her industry, ceaseless patience, toil and fortitude has humored, urged and otherwise coerced her husband to receive his degree."

Within the next few weeks several of the interest groups will be meeting and a variety of programs are planned.

On Wednesday, Jan. 20, the Child Study group will meet to hear Dr. Alex Rogerson, a pediatrician from the Berkeley Medical group, discuss "Guidance and Discipline." The program will start at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jerry Tool, 653 Jackson in Albany. Call Mrs. Thys Johnson at 527-1911 for further information or a ride.

The World Affairs group will meet Thursday, Jan. 21, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Brode, 1471 Greenwood Terrace in Berkeley. The topic for the evening will be "China Today" and the speaker will be Mr. Richard Baum, a graduate student from Cal involved in the Chinese studies program. Call Mrs. Charles Lynch at 843-0212 for further information or a ride.

Arts and Needlecraft interest group will meet Jan. 28 at the Albany Community Center for a program of flower arranging. Mrs. Cason, a faculty wife and former Dame, will demonstrate various flower arrangements and she will furnish flowers and greens for practice. Please bring your own vase, frog, and scissors to use for practice. Call Mrs. Robert Murray at 524-9670 for a ride or further information on the time of the program.

Mrs. Phillip Martin Discusses Sea Shells for Troop 12

A program of special interest covering California sea shells will be presented Wed., Jan. 20, at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial building in Albany. Slide demonstrations and a collection of shells from all over the world will be used to describe the beauty found in this form of sea life.

Guest speaker for the evening is Mrs. Phillip Martin, Marin PTA president. Her activities with the Malacozoological club at the University of California with her collections have made her an authority in this field. She is active in Albany with charitable organizations such as the March of Dimes.

The program is to be presented at the regular meeting of Boy Scout Troop 12. A special invitation is extended to the boys' parents as well as to their sponsoring organization, American Legion Post 292. Visitors are welcome, according to Scoutmaster Eldon A. Wolf.

Mrs. W. W. Culley Opens Dog Classes in Berkeley

Beginning Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, the Berkeley Humane Society will begin its first dog obedience training class. The course is of four weeks duration and new classes will start on the first Wednesday of each subsequent month, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The class will be under the direction of Mrs. W. W. (Mary) Culley of Albany, who has proven her ability by her past successes in this field.

"Ultimate objective of these training classes," explains Carl Myer, assistant executive manager of the society, "is for people to teach their pets to learn the simple 'sit,' 'heel,' 'stay,' and 'come' rules of dog obedience whereby fewer dogs will become street casualties and at the same time become more enjoyable, manageable members of the family."

A nominal fee will be charged for the four-week course. Myer urges anyone interested in improving the behavior of his dog to call the society for the rules and application form.

Classes will be limited to 10 dogs per group, the minimum age being established at six months, and applications will be accepted in order of their completion and return.

A Word About Our Service From Harold W. Olson

Together, my wife and I combine almost seventy years of experience in serving the bereaved. We've seen and adopted many changes in our profession through the years, but we have never — I repeat, NEVER — lost sight of the fact that people need and appreciate personalized assistance in time of sorrow. With all the advancements of our firm — with the modern facilities and equipment and the continually improved methods of serving — we still attend to each family's every need as if it was our own. We still adhere to a principle that doesn't need changing: the Golden Rule.

support of the entire community," also asked that the Recreation Department restrict use of local facilities to Albany Little League to prevent outside interests from coming in. The latter idea did not appeal to Council.
Upon request of Councilman Joel Parker, Jr., Administrative Officer Turner was asked to investigate a possible new ruling that stop signs be removed from controlled intersections. Turner said the signs were precautionary in case the lights did not work.
Councilman Lewis Howell commended City Attorney Larry Saler and Turner for their efforts in bringing about the successful completion of Marin extension and the Buchanan overpass. When Councilman Richard Clark moved to amend the motion to include Howell, who has been working on the matter since he first came on the council, Howell said he would rather see the amendment as a separate motion. However, it passed as amended.
Councilman Joe Egenberger requested that the meeting be adjourned in tribute to Sir Winston Churchill, "the Giant of the Century and the only honorary citizen of the United States." About this time, the conversation turned to the overpass (see separate story) and the suggestion was forgotten in the excitement.

Band Booster Fish Fry Friday Night at Cornell

A menu designed to tantalize the palate of the most discriminating Albany resident will be served in the form of a fish fry dinner, Friday, Jan. 22, at Cornell School cafeteria from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

This event is scheduled to permit those attending to take in other activities and at the same time give mom a night off from the chores of feeding the family. Tickets are $1 for adults and teenagers, 75 cents for children under high school age. They may be purchased from any band, orchestra or instrumental student or at the door.

The fish fry dinner is planned as a fund-raising event to help provide the Albany High band with new, much-needed uniforms. The project has been enthusiastically planned by the Band Boosters, an organization of parents and friends of the high school music department.

Band Booster President Al Klose has cast an eye at the initial budget of $1,200 to get the project under way and states that the success of the fund-raising is dependent upon Albany's participation to turn red snapper into new uniforms.

Red Cross Volunteer Training Sessions Set—Mrs. Giegerich

The schedule of classes for the new volunteer training sessions has been announced by Mrs. Lewis Giegerich, chairman of volunteers for Berkeley Red Cross.

Three have been scheduled so far: Thursday, Jan. 28; Friday, Feb. 26, and Tuesday, March 23. Classes are from 9:30 to 12:30 and from 1 to 3, and are given in three distinct sections so that if one cannot attend all three at once the three different parts may be taken at different times.

Previously, emphasis has been placed on the particular service a volunteer was to be placed in. Now, due to the updating of the Office of Volunteers at the national level, emphasis will be on training the volunteer in helping to fulfill the needs of the community. Thus, everyone volunteering will be a Red Cross volunteer rather than "a Gray Lady," a "Motor Service Driver," etc. The many services will be provided as usual and added training will be given where specific skills are needed; but the emphasis is on volunteering where the volunteer can best serve Red Cross and the community.

All new volunteers will be required to take the new course.

Since classes will be limited, anyone interested should call Red Cross headquarters at 845-1430 or come to 2116 Allston Way to register. Volunteers are needed.

Andrea Wolf of Albany, now attending California State College at Hayward, was in charge of one of the guitar workshops, and the group singing workshop was directed by Mrs. Thelma Vickland, former staff advisor to the Albany Girl Scout Neighborhood.

Sherri George of El Cerrito High was general chairman for the event, assisted by Penny Brower of Berkeley High. Miss Weiner, who gave the welcoming address, is senior planning board president for Girl Scouts of the Northeast Bay Area.

7600 men are working on PG&E construction jobs today and every day.

Every working day this year, 7600 men and more than a million dollars go to work on new construction to serve PG&E customers.

That many men will work all year long at jobs supported by PG&E's $275 million expansion program for 1965.

That amount of money, invested every day in new equipment and materials, as well as in payrolls, becomes a valuable part of the whole state's economy.

Moreover, the new structures and facilities become valuable additions to local tax rolls, helping support local schools, hospitals, police and fire departments. Of course, all this new construction doesn't slow us down one bit in performing our biggest job, around the clock, supplying millions of Californians with the gas and electricity they need.
